

I am sick of listening to the news on the radio; reading on the internet and in the newspaper, then watching it on television and having the exact same stories in my local media. There is no longer any variety or diversity. As a formal journalist, I know how easily the truth can be twisted with just a slight amount of bias. It's obvious this happens repeated. Just look at the coverage on the recent war. I thought this was a democracy!